

CPA Featured in American Bar Association Video

A Deeper Dive — On the Sidelines or Taking Sides: Corporations, Elections, Social Responsibility, and Long-Term Impacts on Corporate Governance

The American Bar Association released on Dec. 19, 2022, a video filmed at last September's Business Law Section Annual Meeting. Titled A Deeper Dive — On the Sidelines or Taking Sides: Corporations, Elections, Social Responsibility, and Long-Term Impacts on Corporate Governance, it takes a broad look at how companies should handle political spending in today's high-risk environment.

Here's the link: <https://businesslawtoday.org/video/deeper-dive-on-sidelines-or-taking-sides-corporations-elections-social-responsibility/>.

Bruce Freed, president of The Center for Political Accountability participated in the video with Maritz Adonis, Chief Executive Officer of MTA Visions, a global CSR and government relations firm based in Washington, D.C. It was moderated by Jason Kaune, chair of the ABA's Election Law Section and leader of Nielsen Merksamer's political law section.